

The Consortium for Critical Reading, Writing, and Thinking

Annual Conference

Saturday, October 26, 2013

Sponsored by Berkeley College and St. John's University

This conference invites proposals for interactive workshops, panels, roundtable discussions, and papers from all disciplines on pedagogy and improved student learning as they relate to critical reading, writing, and thinking.

What are the specific challenges, successful practices, and methodologies inherent in your field? Workshop, roundtable, panel, and paper topics may include (but are not limited to):

- Unpacking the Literacies and Identities of Students Entering the Classroom
- Grading and Assessment
- Issues Around Globalism Within Teaching and Learning
- Innovative and Progressive Pedagogy
- Academic Integrity
- Fostering Improved Literacy and Critical Engagement in the Online Classroom
- Teaching to Multiple Literacies
- Discipline-Specific (e.g. English, Business, History) Approaches to Writing Instruction and Assessment
- Understanding Student Demographics in Teaching and Learning

Proposals may be disciplinary, interdisciplinary, or multidisciplinary in nature. Preference will be given to interactive presentations.

Concurrent sessions are to run 1 hour and 15 minutes each (with at least 15 minutes of a given session reserved for Q & A)

Submission Instructions

Write an abstract (250-500 words) of the intent and scope of your presentation. Include a presentation title, your name, school, and email address atop your abstract. Provide a brief academic/scholarly bio below your abstract. Please note the intended format of your presentation, e.g. workshop, roundtable, panel, or individual paper. An explanation of each format can be found below. If submitting as a panel, please include the names and affiliations of all presenters, as well as the titles of their respective papers (if applicable). Accepted individual paper submissions will be grouped according to topic or theme to form panels.

Send your abstracts by June 30, 2013, to the conference committee at ccrwt@berkeleycollege.edu

Interactive Workshop

In a workshop, one or more facilitators lead a practical, hands-on presentation focused on a particular theme and learning outcome. Attendees function as active participants.

Roundtable

In a roundtable, selected participants (usually experts in a given field) engage in a focused discussion on a specific theme with one or more facilitators guiding or moderating the dialogue.

Pre-Arranged Panel

A panel features multiple presenters addressing research on a specific topic or theme. Panels are typically comprised of three participants delivering individual papers; that said, those who've submitted accepted panel abstracts may determine the structure of their session so long as they allow for 15 minutes of Q&A.

Individual Paper

Papers are articles or reports on current research delivered by individual presenters.

Accepted papers will be grouped by topic or theme to form panels of three presenters. Paper presentations should run no longer than 20 minutes and allow sufficient time for Q&A.

Questions

Please direct any and all queries to the conference committee at ccrwt@berkeleycollege.edu (ccrwt webpage forthcoming)